

Your fax advertising restrictions are so excessive as to be ridiculous. The additional cost of obtaining authorization from existing customers will far outweigh the anecdotal cost of "paper and ink and the time to read and dispose.."

What were you thinking? Certainly the economy, jobs, and common sense played no role in your consideration.

You owe it to American small business to reconsider this draconian decree.